Q: Sensei... do you ever think about wearing women's clothes?

--Wishes to Remain Anonymous

A: No!!!)<

Q: Oda Sensei, I have a question. In chapter 405: Power, in volume 42, Franky had "BF36" written on his shoulders, when he did his Tracking Franky Destroy Cannon attack. That stands for Battle Franky 36, doesn't it? How about it?

--Sniper Q

A: Yes!! You're right. That's what it stands for. As you can tell from reading Franky's flashbacks, he made warships called Battleship Franky and numbered them up through 35. Later, he got hurt when the ships he had built hurt his loved ones, and so he used the same technological skill to revive himself, carved "BF36" on his body, and stopped making warships. He became a dismantler of ships after that.

Q: I've been wondering for some time now what kind of person Kumadori's mother was.

--Yasuhiko-kun

A: Okay. She's actually still alive.
Occupation: Assassin
Name: Kumadori Yamanbako

INFO ON THE STRAW HATS!

- Q: Odacchi, hello! I noticed something. It's the secret of Zolo's techniques during his battle against Kaku in volume 43. The attacks have a double meaning in Japanese!
- Nigiri → Nigiri (sushi)
- Tower Climb (tôrô) → Fatty tuna (toro)
- Tower Climb Return (ôtôrô) → Big fatty tuna (ôtoro, fattier than toro)
- Flash (hirameki) → Flounder (hirame)
- Ripple (samon) → Salmon (samon)

What a focus on sushi... Has Zolo even eaten sushi before?!

--Susshi

Here, the way each attack is pronounced in Japanese suggests a particular type of fish or sushi. The Japanese pronunciation appears in parentheses.--Ed.

- A: Well, well, well! Once again it appears charges have been leveled at you, Zolo! It must hurt to have people accuse you of such shameless puns! Come out and say it's not true, Zolo!

Zolo: Hey, now! Listen up, Susshi. I-it isn't...isn't...

A: You're not lying well!

Q: Dear Oda Sensei. Does Santa really exist?

--Kinoko

A: Yes!! He totally exists!! One time, I wanted to see him, and was waiting with my eyes open, but I fell asleep. He's really hard to see! Argh!

Q: Oda Sensei! I've got a serious question. Aren't you ever going to draw Luffy's father?

--Mr. Unii, 16 years old

A: His father? I already drew him. He'll be in the next volume. Look forward to it!

--Geiichiro Oda

A: What are you talking about? What are you talking ABOUT?! Can't you see anything? What were you looking at during the fight?! That Sanji's feet were hot?! They weren't that hot! I mean, come on, Sanji's heart was Burning way hotter!!

Q: Hope you're having a propitious summer.

--Udon Powder

A: W-where was it? I couldn't reveal something so private! (Blush) I mean, it was there! That wily Kalifa!

Q: Um, I'd like to talk to you about Franky. He was found when he was 10 years old. He began building the Sea Train at 12 and completed it ten years later. Then four years after that he was involved in the so-called incident that happened eight years ago, so...is he 34 years old?! Should he be so hyper at that age? I took him for about 18 until I worked it out...

--Young Iceberg Is Too Cool!!

A: I see. You worked it out. You're right. Franky is 34. That's why he's so cool! And he's a die-hard weirdo.

Q: Oda Sensei, I've got to talk to you about something! It's about... uh, first would you put on some clothes?! Are you wearing pants now? Good! Now to what I wanted. Could you lend me that swimsuit catalog?

--Chanman

A: No! This is reference material! For manga!!

Q: Hello, Oda Sensei. Are you taking care of your health? My name is Kimeunhyang. One Piece volume 41 was published recently in South Korea. Now for my question. In the logo, where Luffy's silhouette makes the "I", what is the thing (→) between his hips and his legs? A skirt? Surely not! I want to know so badly I'm having trouble sleeping.

A: Thanks for writing. Here we've got a question from South Korea. You'll probably understand if I draw a picture. Maybe the area around the hands is a little confusing.

Q: Hiya, Odacchi! I made some time during my incredibly busy summer break to research something. You use sound effects like DOOM! and DOOOM!! a lot, don't you? I counted how many times you've used DOOM all the way through One Piece volume 42, chapter 409! (Sound effects included: DOOM, DOOOM, DADOOM, DADOOOM, BADOOOM*) I can't vouch for my accuracy, but there were roughly 1,469 DOOMs! (DOOM!!) On average, that's approximately 3.5 DOOM-type sound effects appearing per single chapter. Did you know that? No other manga artist uses DOOM so much. All right, everyone, a round of applause! CLAP CLAP! Wow! All right, now that you're feeling pretty good... The Question Corner is over!!! (DADOOM)

--M of SYAM

A: Waaaaait! Let me say something! Just how much time do you have on your hands?! (laughs) But really, thank you. That's how many scenes I have confidence in! See you next volume!

*Even if the questions from overseas or from small children have grammatical mistakes in them, I have them printed just the way they are, because the effort they put into them makes me happy.
